Premium quality ALUPANEL® composite panels feature two aluminum sheets sandwiching a polyethylene core. Available in one of the widest color ranges on the market, standard options include gloss or matte colors, brushed, metal and even mirror finishes.

Exceptional weight versus rigidity performance combined with a high quality finish makes them much easier to transport, handle and install than many other sheet materials. To ensure quality and safety, ALUPANEL is UL rated and classified as class A under ASTM-E84 for reaction to fire.
